SOLDIER FELLEED BY ROCK

Mob Cuts Hose to Keep Firemen from Putting Out Blaze in Negroes' Houses.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Thursday.—A great mob invaded Section street again this evening to continue the race riots that have terrorized the city for the last two days. It is declared by their officers that the militia will be able to cope with any further trouble.

An attempt was made to fire a negro tenement to-night and in the ensuing fight with the soldiers Arthur Stimmel, of Company I, of Xenia, was struck on the head by a paving stone and knocked unconscious. He is badly hurt. The soldiers put out the fire with buckets. The firemen were powerless, as the crowd completely cut the hose.

The crowd was forced back at the point of the bayonet. Martin Davis, the railroad man said to have been shot by Dean and Ladd, the negroes now in Dayton jail, is slowly sinking and his life is despaired of. When he dies it is said that a mob will start for Dayton to lynch the negroes there. This is believed to be only a bluff.

Two small fires occurred between half-past eight and nine o'clock, one at Race and High, where a negro joint, which is vacant, was fired and extinguished by the fire department. The other one was near the Spangenberg house, in East Main street. A mob of about fifty men fired several shots in the air, but did no damage.

ARRESTED WHOLE CROWDS.
Last night's trouble threatened to be worse than the first outbreak, until Colonel Ammel, commanding the eight companies of soldiers, issued orders to arrest whole parties of men who were found congregated at one place, and who in some instances refused at first to disperse. The plan adopted by the military was to surround a group of men and youths and if they did not immediately disperse, place them under arrest and conduct them to headquarters.

The first result of this plan was the arrest of a gang of fourteen rowdies by a squad of police commanded by Sergeant Johnson. Within half an hour Major Marshall, of the Fourth regiment, commanding a detachment of the troops, rounded up another party of nine, and took them to headquarters. From this time forward the crowds on the streets began to disappear and the disorder ceased.

EXCITEMENT WAS INTENSE.
In the meantime there was intense excitement, which was augmented every little while during the night by news of a fresh outbreak somewhere. Wildly exaggerated reports of burning and shooting were circulated during the earlier hours of the night.

At an early hour this morning Mayor James M. Todd, Chief of Police Richard P. Brien and a detachment of the police, Colonel C. S. Ammel, united in the following statement:

"It is reported this morning or to encourage their continuance. The men and boys who were caught rebelling by the police and militia last night will be assigned to the City Hospital this morning. If he deals with them with all the severity the case merits, the rioters who are sentenced will become examples to warn those still at large of the risk they are running. Judge Miller will take the case to the key to the situation. The present outbreak ceases with this."

By the companies of the Third regiment, the prisoners, Edward Dean and Preston Ladd, were brought here from Dayton at half past one P. M. today and taken to the City Hospital to be identified by Martin Davis, the wounded bricklayer. The prisoners were in charge of Sheriff Almon and Deputy Lawrence, of this city, and Sheriff Wright, of Dayton. Davis identified Dean, but not Ladd.

Twenty-five rioters were arraigned in police court this morning. Sixteen were charged with rioting, four of whom had the additional charge of carrying concealed weapons. These four were each fined $20 and costs and sent to the Xenia Workhouse until the fine and costs are paid. These charged with disorderly conduct were fined $20 and costs.

JAIL FOR YALE STUDENT.

Brooklyn Young Man Sentenced to Ten Days and $10 Fine for Disturbance at Theatre.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Thursday.—Sentence of ten days in jail for resisting a policeman and a fine of $10 for disturbing the peace in a theatre was imposed upon Warren Lester Lewis, of Brooklyn, a Yale student to-day.

Such treatment for a student was so unusual that it created much surprise among the Yale men. Disturbances at theatres have been so frequent recently that the magistrates have decided to impose heavier penalties. Lewis, however, had the sympathy of Judge Tyler to-day because Policeman Briggs, who made the arrest, was accused of having used his club freely.

TAKEN TO YALE MEN.

Secretary Tells Them They Should Get Into Politics and Learn from the Masses.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Thursday.—In a letter to the Yale Good Government Club William H. Taft, Secretary of War, advises Yale men to take part in the politics of the country and tells them that the college graduates have much to learn from the working and business men of the country who have not had the advantage of a college education.

Secretary Taft says further that mingling with these classes of men will broaden the sympathies of the college man and give him a better appreciation of the motives and feelings of the masses. He says those in the Yale organization should realize that their usefulness depends upon their willingness to take part in the humblest political movements.

HAS MORE TEXANS TO HELP PATRICK

Mr. Olcott Will Insist That His New Witnesses Must Be Given a Hearing.

JEROME WILL NOT CONSENT

Lawyer for Defence Threatens to Make Another Motion for a New Trial for Defendant.

When the hearing of a motion for a new trial for Albert T. Patrick, convicted of the murder of William M. Rice, is resumed before Recorder Goff this morning, Mr. Olcott, of counsel for Patrick, will insist upon District Attorney Jerome receiving three new affidavits from Texans in support of the contention that Charles F. Jones admitted he perjured himself in Patrick's trial. The men who made these affidavits are in this city and Mr. Olcott will invite Mr. Jerome to question them.

That the District Attorney will decline to accept service of the new affidavits, unless directed to do so by the Recorder, is certain. He will argue that the present motion was made on affidavits of men who were named, some of whom have been proved to be unreliable, and one of whom, Joseph Jordan, has confessed he perjured himself when testifying here. He will hold that Mr. Olcott has no right to supplement his first set of witnesses.

Should the District Attorney persist in this refusal Mr. Olcott probably will make his new witnesses the basis of another motion for a new trial for Patrick, aware that he has not made much headway with his present witnesses and feeling assured that those he found later are respectable men, whose word will carry weight.

MILLIKEN WILL TESTIFY.
It is expected that Patrick's brother-in-law, John T. Milliken, whose efforts resulted in finding and bringing to this city the first batch of witnesses, will be called to be examined about his own affidavit.

In this he tells how he engaged former Judge Bailey, of Houston, to find anyone who had heard Jones admit his perjury. He says he "cautioned him to carefully examine these stories and to test their veracity and only to send me affidavits if he was confident of the truthfulness of the statements, and that no money should be paid to the witnesses, directly or indirectly."

One of the new witnesses is Edwin D. McKenney, a stenographer in a district court in Texas. He says he was at Morgan's Point, Texas, in April, 1905, when duck shooting. Two months afterward he met him again at the same place. He continues:

"Up to that time I had no idea that he was Charles F. Jones, formerly the valet of William M. Rice, but in our conversation he said: 'It is a damn shame the way the trial of Patrick was conducted. I wish I could have been there to see how the case was handled. I was frightened, in telling some story about me.' Then I entered my mind that he was the Charles F. Jones about whom I had read, and I said: 'Here, I don't want to know anything about that; I do not want to subject myself to attacks of pain which drove nearly him to distraction and was compelled to seek relief in morphine. There is not the slightest doubt in the minds of his widow and friend, Dr. Sinclair K. Boyle, who arrived while he was still alive, that the overdose of the drug was taken by accident. In spite of his affliction, Drake was cheerful and lived a happy and contented existence. Dr. Boyle said last night that he had known him for twenty years and had prescribed for him for this ailment.'

Mrs. Drake saw her husband moving about the room before dying. When she sank to slumber again he was resting easily. Dr. Boyle, who was called in to see him, took another dose, which resulted in his death. Mrs. Drake tried to arouse her husband when he found he was breathing heavily, and sent for Dr. Boyle. He worked over his friend for an hour. Dr. Boyle reported the death to Coroner's Physician Weston, who found that an autopsy was unnecessary.

Dr. Drake was thirty-nine years old and was born in the Catskills. He was graduated from the New York University in 1888. He had been married sixteen years. Mrs. Drake is prostrated.

Gas Stove Kills Man and Woman

Couple Smothered When Flame Consumes Oxygen in Unventilated Hotel Room.

Bessie Calkins, a neatly dressed young woman, and Philip Rellly, a porter at a west side hotel, were found dead at eight o'clock last night in a room in Busse's Hotel, Broadway and Sixty-seventh street. They registered the night before as "Lyle Rellly and wife." Coroner Shradley said they had died of a carbonic oxide poisoning. When a maid went to the room to call them yesterday morning she got no response to repeated knocks upon the door. She then called the proprietor of the place, who found the bodies.

Directly under the gas jet was a small gas stove. It was blazing fiercely and had been burning since the night before. The stove was red hot. Another gas jet was burning. The air was stifling, and there was no ventilation whatever in the room, and this, in the opinion of Coroner Shradley, was responsible for the deaths.

Dr. Shradley explained that the oxygen had been consumed by the burning gas and had left the oxide, which acted as a poison. Rellly and his wife were found lying on the floor, and the gas stove was found to be in the same block as had been entered in the last three weeks, and it was only a short time in the morning that the house of Walter K. Rossiter, at No. 161 South Oxford place, and when discovered held a revolver in the face of Mr. and Mrs. Rossiter and forced his escape.

That death to both was the result of ignorance in the use of a gas stove there is little doubt.

IN AGONY, TAKES OVERDOSE OF DRUG

Dr. William A. Drake Killed by Morphine with Which He Hoped to Relieve Neuralgia.

VAIN EFFORT TO SAVE HIM
Wife Called Another Physician, His Friend, but Dying Man Could Not Be Revived.

Suffering agony from neuralgia, Dr. William A. Drake, a wealthy physician living with his wife in Euclid Hall, Broadway and Eighty-fifth street, arose at five o'clock yesterday morning and took an overdose of morphine. In spite of efforts to revive him he died at half-past seven o'clock.

For several months Dr. Drake had been subject to attacks of pain which drove nearly him to distraction and was compelled to seek relief in morphine. There is not the slightest doubt in the minds of his widow and friend, Dr. Sinclair K. Boyle, who arrived while he was still alive, that the overdose of the drug was taken by accident. In spite of his affliction, Drake was cheerful and lived a happy and contented existence. IRA SANKEY'S HOME LOOTED BY THEVES

Paintings Which Were Presented to the Evangelist Are Cut Out of Their Frames.

SILVERWARE IS TAKEN ALSO

Deeds and Other Papers Strewn About the Floor—Many Robberies in Neighborhood Recently.

One of the mementoes of Ira D. Sankey's evangelist work, a picture of the Golden Gate, entitled "The Garden of the Gods," presented to him by friends in San Francisco after he and Mr. Moody held a revival in that city, was cut from the frame by burglars who entered Mr. Sankey's home, No. 148 South Oxford street, Brooklyn, early Monday morning. So crudely was the work done that in all probability the picture is destroyed, for the burglars, instead of cutting next to the frame, cut along the edge of the stretcher, leaving a margin of nearly three inches. Two other oil paintings were destroyed the same way, and the burglars stole enough silverware and bric-a-brac to make the total loss not far from $1,000.

It was at Mr. Sankey's request that the police did not make the news of the burglary public, as he feared that it would cause his many friends to worry. Hopelessly blind and bedridden, he was greatly relieved when told that the robbers had not injured any one of the household.

Mr. Sankey is attended by a graduate nurse, who did not retire until three o'clock Monday morning, so that she saw the burglars enter the house. No one was disturbed by them, and the first indication of the theft was when the servants went down stairs at six o'clock, and found the pictures cut and deeds and valuable papers, which had been taken from two tin boxes, strewn about.

Trunks of three men could be seen who had entered the premises between two houses in North Portland avenue, and climbed a fence. An accurate description of the stolen articles was furnished the police, but no trace of them has been found. All of the silverware was engraved. This particular locality has been a favorite working place for burglars. Four houses in the same block have been entered in the last three weeks, and it was only a short time in the morning that the house of Walter K. Rossiter, at No. 161 South Oxford place, and when discovered held a revolver in the face of Mr. and Mrs. Rossiter and forced his escape.

PHYSICIANS INCREASE PRICES.

Tell the Derby Public Economy Is Only Penny Wise and Pound Foolish.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]
DERBY, Conn., Thursday.—Bristol's physicians have again revised their charges, and the Medical Association to-day announced as final an increase in rates to $1.25 for calls in the borough and seventy-five cents for office consultation. In the course of a long statement explaining their action, the physicians say:

"If the physician is not paid a fair fee, so that he can take time for relaxation and study, the public will suffer more than even physicians, for he loses only income and practice, while the public loses health and life. It is penny wise and pound foolish for a community to economize in the fee which it pays to its physicians, for they cannot give the best in medical equipment and service. This increased rate does not apply to the poorest poor man, who will have to pay no more than he has done."

CHOATE FAVORS GOOD ROADS.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]

"What Berkshire county greatly needs is the widening and improvement of its roads. The roads of this county are in a state of decay, and the safety of those who ride in other vehicles is endangered. It is the duty of the State to provide for the safety of its citizens, and the safety of the roads is a matter of the highest importance."
